Enquiries
Enquiries may be made by letter, telephone or email. Please note that the Archivist works one day a week and that it may take up to two weeks to answer enquiries. The Archivist is happy to answer enquiries free of charge; however, we cannot undertake detailed or time-consuming research for individual enquirers. If this is likely to be the case please talk to the Archivist about visiting the Archives in person or making arrangements for the research to be carried out by a third person.

Visiting
Hertford College welcomes researchers who wish to consult the Archives in person. The Archives are open to the public on Mondays and Wednesdays, 9.30am-5.00pm throughout the year. Researchers should make an appointment in advance by contacting the Archivist, so that we can book a reading room, and retrieve records ahead of a visit. Please bring one form of Photo ID such as a University Matriculation Card, Passport or Driving License; and complete a visitor form on arrival.

Our address is:
Hertford College, Catte St, Oxford, OX1 3BW
Tel (direct line): 01865 279409
Email: archives@hertford.ox.ac.uk

Parking
Please note that parking in central Oxford is very limited and that there is no parking available in the College. Visitors are strongly advised to use public transport or the Park and Ride scheme to travel to Oxford. The College is a short taxi drive or 15-20 minute walk from the train and bus station.

Accessibility
For visitors with any additional needs, please contact the Archivist in advance so that we can help plan your visit. In particular if you have mobility problems or difficulty in using stairs please let us know in advance so that we can book an accessible reading room.

Handling Archives
All archival material should be handled carefully and in accordance with the Document Handling Guidelines. In particular researchers should not eat or drink near archival material, and should use pencils rather than pens or biros to make notes. Individuals will be reminded of the handling guidelines prior to consultation; and any necessary equipment such as pencils, book rests and weights will be made available.

Copying

- Due to owners’ rights, preservation, Copyright and Data Protection/FOI considerations, no photocopying, scanning or any other form of reproduction may be carried out without prior permission from the Archivist or Fellow Archivist.
- Researchers may request copies to be made of documents in the Archives for the purposes of private research, subject to the physical condition of the records and any owners’ rights, preservation, Copyright and Data Protection/FOI restrictions. Digital cameras may be used to make personal research copies, with the prior permission of the Archivist and on completion of a self-photography form.
- Researchers wishing to reproduce material for publication or commercial use must obtain permission from the copyright holder. Where the copyright is held by Hertford College the researcher must complete a copyright permission form. If the copyright is held elsewhere it is the responsibility of the researcher to seek permission from the copyright holder before a reproduction can be made.

Charges

- Hertford College Archives will not charge for answering straightforward enquiries from academic researchers or members of the public.
- Hertford College Archives will not normally charge for supplying digital images for academic or other non-commercial purposes such as publications, exhibitions or websites. However we may charge if reproducing and editing the images is particularly time consuming. We reserve the right to charge to cover the costs of any photocopying or printing. We will normally ask for a copy of publications to be donated to the Library and Archives.
- Hertford College Archives will normally charge a fee for reproduction and usage in the case of commercial publications. If charges are made a quotation will be issued prior to any reproductions being carried out.
