

HELLO!

Firstly, congratulations on securing your place at Hertford!

There's a lot to find out about Hertford and you'll be bombarded with information during your first few weeks here. We're getting a head start by introducing you to the Library now, but don't worry we'll be around throughout your time at Hertford to help you in your studies.

You'll have access to the Library 24 hours a day, 7 days a week - handy if you're a night owl or an early bird. There's no limit on the number of books you can borrow - just remember to renew them every few weeks or you'll incur the Librarian's wrath. And fines.

But it's not just all about the books. The Library is a quiet place to study. We have wifi and power sockets for laptops, computers, printers and equipment like ergonomic mice and laptop stands to help you get the most out of the University's many online resources.

And Library staff are here if you need any help. Not all the time, but most week days during office hours.

We look forward to welcoming you in October,

ALICE ROQUES (Librarian)
